The "PMS" You Can't Live Without!

LIFE = WORK + LOVE + PLAY

PMS provides you with your very own personal "sage-on-your-stage" along with a "guide-on-your-side" to help you along your special path in life.

A "mentor" is a seasoned community elder with true experience, knowledge and wisdom to be a valued "pathfinder" for another who is committed to their journey in life.

A high functioning mentor is ready, willing and able to "go long and deep" in service of the best interests of their client (variously referred to as a protégé, mentee or partner).

WORK

Whistle While You Work

It has often been said that “if you love what you do, you will never work a day in your life”.

Such passion dares you to both experience and to know at a very deep level that each and every one of your actions matter in the larger tapestry of your work.

Everything is connected to everything starting with you and ending with you.

So unless you view your work as just another job, then the alternative is to make all of your work “a labor of love”.

LOVE

The Dance of Love

Love is the mutual exchange of vulnerabilities within the context of a non-territorial, non-possessive and non-exploitative relationship.

It is further characterized by earning respect, winning cooperation and evolving trust, whereby, permission and encouragement “to be or not to be” is counter balanced by the consistent challenge to become!

Ultimately, it is up to each partner, in a healthy, mature adult-adult relationship, to design, develop, implement, maintain, nurture and make “love” into their own image.

PLAY

Play Well

In the beginning, play is the work of children. It serves to provide a safe methodology for young people to learn “the rules” associated with specialized roles through play and games.

By adopting a specific role and adapting to the specific rules which govern the role, the child hopefully discovers the fun and joy of being ready, willing and able to achieve role-rule mastery by doing what is expected through play and games.

Play makes possible the societal sanctioning of our acting “as-if” we can be anyone and do anything, with most players stipulating to the premise they are just playing.
